

University of Connecticut School of Nursing PhD Program

Full-time Sequence

Year 1

Semester I (Fall)

NURS 6100:	Philosophy of Science in Nursing	3 credits
NURS 6122:	Quantitative Methods for Design and Analysis in Nursing Research I	3 credits
NURS 6130:	Introduction to Qualitative Methods	3 credits
GRAD 5910:	Responsible Conduct in Research	1 credit

Semester II (Spring)

NURS 6135:	Exploring the Nature of Nursing Knowledge	3 credits
NURS 6101:	Introduction to Grantsmanship	3 credits
NURS 6123:	Quantitative Methods for Design and Analysis in Nursing Research II	3 credits

Summer

One or both of recommended academic nursing courses

Year 2

Semester III (Fall)

NURS 6160:	Advanced Qualitative Methods	3 credits
NURS 6125:	Quantitative Methods for Design and Analysis in Nursing Research III	3 credits
	*CSDA	3 credits

Semester IV (Spring)

NURS 6165:	Mixed Methods in Nursing Research	3 credits
NURS 6175:	Advanced Nursing Knowledge Development	3 credits
GRAD 6950:	*CSDA	3 credits

Year 3

Semester V (Fall)

GRAD 6950:	Dissertation Preparation	6-9 credits
------------	--------------------------	-------------

Semester VI (Spring)

GRAD 6950:	Dissertation Preparation	6-9 credits
------------	--------------------------	-------------

(need a minimum of 15 credits)

Matriculation continued until end (Grad 6999)

Total 52 Credits

For More Information Contact:

Jacqueline McGrath

Associate Dean, Research and Scholarship

Phone: (860) 486-0537 Fax: (860) 486-9085

Email: jacqueline.mcgrath@uconn.edu