

UConn School of Nursing

Neonatal Acute Care Nurse Practitioner

POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Graduates are prepared to assume roles as Neonatal Nurse Practitioners. Nurse Practitioner graduates are prepared to be eligible to apply for the Neonatal Nurse Practitioner examination given by the National Certification Corporation for the Obstetric, Gynecologic, and Neonatal Specialties.

SAMPLE PLAN OF STUDY

Semester I Fall

NURS 5350 Advanced Neonatal Embryology/Physiology 3 Credits

Semester II Spring

NURS 5362 Neonatal Advanced Health Assessment 3 Credits

NURS 5365 Advanced Neonatal Nursing Theory I 3 Credits

NURS 5370 Advanced Pharmacodynamics and Implication for Nursing Actions: Neonatal Section 3 Credits

Semester III Summer

NURS 5369 Advanced Neonatal Nursing Practicum I 2 Credits

Semester IV Fall

NURS 5375 Advanced Neonatal Nursing Theory II 3 Credits

NURS 5379 Advanced Neonatal Nursing Practicum II 3 Credits

Semester V Spring

NURS 5385 Advanced Neonatal Nursing Theory III 3 Credits

NURS 5389 Advanced Neonatal Nursing Practicum III 3 Credits

26 Credits

All NNP post-MS students must demonstrate successful completion of a 3 credit Master's level advanced pathophysiology course. If advanced pathophysiology has not been successfully completed it will be added to this plan of study.

Courses that have previously been taken and meet university criteria might be eligible to be waived.

A copy of the course syllabus must be provided if the course was completed at another university or college.

For More Information Contact:

Admission & Enrollment Services

School of Nursing

231 Glenbrook Road, Unit 4026

Storrs, CT 06269-4026

Phone: (860) 486-1937 Fax: (860) 486-0906

Email: nursingadmissions@uconn.edu