| • Choose an acceptable format: The advisory committee must approve the format of the manuscript for the general exam. | Acceptable formats include:
  - Integrated or systematic review of the literature (using the PRISMA guidelines)
  - Meta-synthesis
  - Meta-analysis
  - Concept or theory analysis
  - Philosophy paper
  - Secondary analysis of publically available data | |
| Formats that require IRB review are not permitted. | | |
| • Once the topic and format are approved by the Committee, it is permissible to set-up a tentative oral presentation date with the committee based on the timeline below. | The student is responsible for setting up the oral presentation date/time and room (including technology support needed). Schedule for 2 hours.

If the committee deems necessary the tentative presentation date can be altered at any time point in the process. | |
| 4 weeks before the tentative presentation date submit to advisory committee | Committee will not provide editorial feedback; they will only determine if the paper is sufficiently developed to proceed to the oral phase of the general exam. | |
| 2 weeks before:
  - the tentative presentation date submit committee-approved paper to two readers
  - Provide Program Assistant with Legal Name, Phone Number, Student ID and Net ID, all participating faculty members | Readers will not provide editorial feedback; they will only determine if the paper is sufficiently developed to proceed to the oral portion of the general exam. | |
| Oral Presentation
The oral presentation includes presentation and discussion of the paper as well as an overview of the student’s program of study underlying the paper and a plan for future program of research, including the dissertation topic. Program Assistant will prepare paperwork and provide to Major Advisor to bring to defense. | The 5-person general exam committee examines not only the paper contents but also the student’s research plan, as well as the student’s ability to apply philosophy, theory, and research methods within the context of the student’s stated area of expertise. The completed paper is to be submitted for publication as part of the student’s scholarly portfolio. | |
