

University of Connecticut School of Nursing

Adjunct Clinical Faculty

The University of Connecticut is seeking applications for adjunct clinical faculty positions, with expertise in teaching fundamentals, behavioral health, maternal/newborn, child health, and/or advanced medical/surgical nursing. We have positions at our Storrs campus for our traditional 4-year undergraduate program as well as our CEIN/BS program at our Storrs, Avery Point, Stamford, and Waterbury campuses.

Responsibilities: Under the direction of the Dean, the faculty member will be responsible to teach undergraduate courses; supervise pre-licensure students in clinical work each semester; establish a practice site for nursing practice activities; assist with development of faculty practice plan; apprise each student of his or her clinical performance on a regular basis; conduct evaluation of individual students' clinical performance via impromptu meetings and planned evaluation conferences; evaluate students' written work; act as liaison to clinical agencies, and share clinical expectations and course syllabi with relevant agency staff; address and initiate action when required for student/agency issues that may arise; and participate in campus laboratory teaching experiences, as required.

Minimum qualifications: Master's degree in Nursing; current Connecticut RN license; three years of practice experience in the relevant clinical area; completion of required health indicators (MMR titers, TB status, Hepatitis B and others as required by clinical agencies) and CPR at time of employment.

Preferred qualifications: Earned doctoral degree in Nursing; previous teaching experience in an institution of higher education; clinical nurse educator certification.

Terms and Conditions: These are adjunct faculty positions, which are generally appointed on a semester by semester basis. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To Apply: interested qualified applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae and three letters of reference to:

John McNulty
UConn School of Nursing
231 Glenbrook Road, Unit 4026
Storrs, CT 06269-4026
john.mcnulty@uconn.edu