University of Connecticut School of Nursing

Assistant Clinical Professor/Associate Clinical Professor (Medical-Surgical Registered Nurse)

The School of Nursing at the University of Connecticut invites applications from medical-surgical acute care nurses to fill a 9-month, non-tenure track faculty position at the Assistant Clinical Professor or Associate Clinical Professor level to begin in January, 2017.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (http://biosciencect.uchc.edu/) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a faculty position in the School of Nursing.

Under the direction of the Dean of the School of Nursing, the faculty member will have the following responsibilities: teaching undergraduate and graduate courses on the Storrs campus; supervising students in clinical work; apprising students of their clinical performance on a regular basis; conducting evaluation of individual students' clinical performance via impromptu meetings and planned evaluation conferences; evaluating students' written work; participating in campus laboratory teaching experiences.

The successful candidate will share a deep commitment to effective instruction and will also be expected to assist the University in its efforts to broaden participation among members of under-represented groups, to demonstrate through teaching, research/scholarship, and/or public engagement richness of diversity in the learning experience, to integrate multicultural experiences into instructional methods and research tools, and to provide leadership in developing pedagogical techniques designed to meet the needs of diverse learning styles and intellectual interests.

Minimum Qualifications

For all appointment levels:

- Doctorate in Nursing or related field
- Previous teaching experience in an institution of higher education
- Current Connecticut state license (valid as of date of hire)
- Three years of practice experience as a medical-surgical RN
- Completion of required health indicators (MMR titers, TB status, Hepatitis B, and others as required by clinical agencies) and CPR certification at the time of employment
- Excellent communication skills and interpersonal relationship strategies

For appointment as Associate Professor:

- Substantial experience teaching nursing in an institution of higher education, with documented positive student evaluations
- Evidence of scholarship or research commensurate with appointment at the Associate Professor level

Preferred Qualifications:

- Record of scholarly productivity
- Certification as a medical-surgical registered nurse (CMSRN)
- Certified Nurse Educator (CNE)
- Experience working with students in an accelerated program
- experience integrating technology into instruction and/or conducting on-line instruction
- Demonstrated ability to contribute through scholarship, teaching, and /or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience

Appointment Term

This is a 9-month, non-tenure track position subject to annual renewal based on program needs, funding, and performance. Rank and compensation package will be commensurate with background, qualifications, and experience. The successful candidate's primary appointment will be at the Storrs campus with the possibility of work at UConn's regional campuses across the state.
